SWINDLERS

IMPORTANT ARRESTS AT INSTANCE OF STREET-CAR COMPANY.

ffwo Men and a Woman Who Have Worked the Accident Racket in a Number of Cities.

For three weeks General Manager Mc-Lean, of the Citizens' Street-railroad Company, has been working on what he considered a bold attempt to swindle the company, and, as a result, two men and a woman are now locked up at the police station, charged with conspiracy to defraud, They gave the names of Barney Ginsberg, Joseph Stein and Yetta Boenshaft, all of St. Louis, They are Russian Jews, and the men, at least, have been engaged in swindling railroads and street-railway companies for a number of years, while Stein | he wished to witness the final settlement. is also wanted in St. Louis for arson, so it | He threw open a door and introduced acting is claimed. Ginsberg and the woman have been passing as man and wife, occupying a house at No. 187 South Illinois street, having been in the city since about April 24. Stein has roomed at No. 265 South Capitol

On the night of April 25, between the hours of 9 and 10, Ginsberg and the woman, with a three-year-old child, boarded a North Pennsylvania-street car, and a short time afterward Stein also took the car. He remained on the rear platform. Ginsberg and the woman remained on the car until everybody else had left it except themselves and Stein. At the corner of Talbott avenue and Seventh street Ginsberg signaled for the car to stop, and, taking the child in his arms, he left the car, followed by the woman. After she had safely alighted and almost reached the sidewalk, Ginsberg being several feet ahead, and after the conductor had signaled for the car to proceed, the woman was seen to gradually sink to the ground as though she had fainted. As the man did not seem to pay any attention to her the conductor stopped his car and hurried to the woman. He says he asked her if she was hurt, but she seemed not to understand English. She arose and did not appear to be injured. The conductor took the names of the man and woman, and when he returned to his car secured the name of the man Stein, who apparently did not know the parties who had left the car. The conductor made his report to the company, and stated that Ginsberg had made no attempt to get the name of any witness.

On the following Saturday Ginsberg made his appearance at the offices of the Streetrailroad company and laid his complaint before Manager McLean, claiming his wife had been severely injured, as the car had started before she reached the ground. She was thrown to the pavement and seriously injured, he insisted. He demanded $1,500 saying that unless the amount was paid he would bring suit against the company. As is the custom when a complaint is made to the company, it was promised that the matter should be examined, and George Bruce, who investigates the accidents which occur in connection with the company, went to the house occupied by Ginsberg and the woman. There he found the woman in hed, with her arm so tightly bandaged that the circulation of blood had been stopped, but aside from that was apparently unin ured. Ginsberg said he had called Dr. L. Witt, of 449 South Capitol avenue, who had dressed the injured member. Dr. Witt, who was seen, said that the arm had been badly bruised, and that the woman was about to become a mother at the time of the accident, and the fall had made her condition dangerous. The company, however, was not satisfied, and Drs. G. W. Coombs and J. B. Long were asked to select a third physician, the three to make an examination of the woman. They selected Dr. L. L. Todd, and the three made an exhaustive investigation and reported that they found the woman in perfect health, and that her arm was not even

A TOO-WILLING WITNESS. Upon this report the railroad officials began a closer investigation, as they were by that time fully satisfied that the whole matter was a conspiracy to defraud the company. Another point which had aroused their suspicion was the manuer in which Ginsberg said he secured Stein's name. The conductor reported that Stein had not given his name to the man whose wife was hurt, so when Ginsberg said he had a witness who saw the accident, Manager McLean asked him his name, and received the name of Stein. When asked how he secured the name, Ginsberg saw he was caught, and manufactured a weak story. He said that on the morning after his wife was hurt he was going down Capitol avenue after Dr. Witt, when he was stopped by Stein, whom he had never before seen, and who asked him how his wife was, and volunteered the information that he had been on the car at the time of the accident and wished to be used as a witness. This story did not sound probable, and the suspicions of the officials were more firmly grounded.

The officials did not give Ginsberg a definite answer, but set on foot an investigation from which the following story has resulted, they claim. Ginsberg was married fourteen years ago in the City Hall in New York city, and from his marriage six children resulted, his wife and one child, a little boy, now living in that city. Ginsberg left them in July, 1893. From New York he went to St. Louis, where until recently he has been living with a woman known as Adela Orenstein. Stein has also a resident of St. Louis fust when the alleged partnership between him and Ginsberg was formed is as yet not certainly deter-

A St. Louis detective, who was placed on case, claims to have revealed a record crime against Stein, and it is thought that Ginsberg has been associated with him in the most of his work. Stein, it is claimed, has made it a business of swindling street-railroad companies, by either getting hurt himself or having a pretended wife to be injured in much the same manner in which the game was tried here. He is said to have been successful in a number of places, among them New York, St. Louis and Chicago. At St. Louis he is said to have burned a house for a woman, for which he received a large sum of money. At St. Louis a pretended wife was seriously njured and a compromise effected with the South St. Louis Car Company, upon which line the accident was alleged to have taken esty, by purchasing this "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce. For a great many years Dr. R. V. Pierce (chief consulting physician and specialist to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y.) made a specialty of the diseases of women, and from his large experience he was able to compound a "Prescription" which acted directly upon the special internal parts of women. When in doubt as to your ailment write him, it will cost you nothing. A Book, on "Woman and Her Diseases, published by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., is of interest to all women. It will be sent for ten cents in stamps. When women are afflicted with nervousness, irritability, nervous prostration or exhaustion and sleeplessness, in nine cases out of ten the source of the trouble is some displacement, irregularity or derangement of the special internal parts. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures permanently such cases as well as that distressing internal discharge from the mucous membrane, inflammation and ulceration.

Brooklyn, Jackson Co., Mich. Gentlemen-I am more than willing to say your nost valuable medicine has cured me of female weakness and a catarrhal discharge from the ered for years with pain in my back, never a night was I free. At your request I commenced atment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescripion. I could not sleep on a mattrass; it seems as though it would kill me. Since taking the medicine I can sleep anywhere; I am perfectly well. I would not be placed in my former condition for any money. Gratefully yours, place. This game was in connection with a man known as Charles Wise, and was suc-cessfully played. Later, with a woman, he went to Chicago, where the same trick was played with equal success on one of the street car companies. A short time afterward Stein claimed to have been injured on the Missouri Pacific railroad, and is reported to have secured several hundred dollars as a compromise. Then he returned to St. Louis, where he and Ginsberg attempted to secure two women to go to Memphis and then to Cleveland with them, where they were to play the street car trick. It is claimed that they had plans for an elabor-ate campaign, with the intention of visiting a number of cities, Indianapolis among them, and that when they had secured $25,-000 they were to invest a part of it in a stock of merchandise in some out-of-the-way place, where they would make out of it all they could, then burn the remainder and make another $25,000 on the insurance. THE WOMAN'S CONFESSION. After these revelations Manager McLean felt warranted in having the parties arrested, and yesterday afternoon when they came to the office on their usual visit he pretended to accept their offer to compromise for $600, and remarking that he had a couple of gentlemen in the next room whom Superintendent of Police Campbell and Chief of Detectives Splann, who immediately placed Ginsberg and Stein under arrest. They were taken to the police station, and the woman was also arrested and removed to the station a short time afterward. Her injured arm suddenly became sound as she prepared to accompany the officers. Before their arrest, however, both Stein and Ginsberg had signed affidavits that they had never met each other before the morning after the accident. Dr. Witt had also signed an affidavit that the woman was in a serious condition. The woman with whom Ginsberg had lived in St. Louis had been found by the detectives, and she asserts that Stein and Ginsberg were working together in that city, and that it was Stein who persuaded Ginsberg to leave her. It is thought that she can tell a great deal about the conspiracies of the two men. At the police station, last evening, Stein was closely questioned, and several times contradicted himself. The woman confessed that she was not the wife of Ginsberg, and that she had only met him three weeks ago. He promised to marry her if she would accompany him to this city, but she says they were never married. She gave her name as Mrs. Boenshaft, wife of Jacob Boenshaft, of St. Louis, saving the child which she had with her was his. She claims to have been divorced from him some time ago, and to have been living with her father in Quincy, Ill., when she met Ginsberg. She declined to give her father's name, as she said she did not want him to know of her disgrace.

ALL CALCULATIONS AS TO CANDI-DATES MUST LEAVE HIM OUT.

If He Wants an Office, He Says, He Is Not Ashamed to Promptly Say So.

The sentiment among some men in municipal politics is that the municipal | $126.90. Republican convention should not be held until six weeks before the election, and a few favor a four weeks' campaign, owing to the strain on business and personal comforts in a campaign so strictly local. Mayor Denny was asked yesterday if there was any probability of his being a candidate. He exhibited much earnestness as "I so much desire to get out of the office that I wish my term ended to-morrow, and there is no qualification in my announced intention not to be a candidate. I am no spring chicken in politics. If I want an office I am not ashamed to use the American right to say so, and when I do I will let everybody know. There will be no trouble in finding a good man to lead the Republican ticket, and there is no question that such a man will be elected. I consider that my declarations on the subject of a renomination were as strong as I could make them, and that no further declaration is needed or can add any strength to them. I do not want to be paraded before the public as having to reiterate the statement, but if there is any way to make the intention and declaration stronger, I want to know it. All calculations should set me aside as one out of consideration as a candidate before the municipal convention."

The Democratic leaders are striving to find a candidate. A new candidate for the honors of the convention is Judge Cox, late of the Criminal Bench. The intention of the thinking members of the party is to adopt a "pretty stift" platform, as one of them expressed it yesterday, a platform that declares that laws must be enforced. It has seemingly dawned upon them that the city of Indianapolis was offended by the record of the last Democratic administration in yielding to the wideopen element in so large a degree. They lay their defeat largely to that issue and they intend to restrain the "dirty" element of the party from controlling their city convention. Among the names they talk about is that of Mr. Lee, of Eastman, Sleicher & Lee, who is a member of the Presbyterian Church.

It Manned a Line of Garden Hose and Saved Pierre Gray's Barn.

A novel but effective fire brigade, hastily improvised by a number of gentlemen who wore dress suits instead of the regulation blue and brass, saved the barn of Pierre Gray from burning Friday night. Among the "laddles" who valiantly fought the flames with a set of garden hose were Geo. Dickson, Frederick Bachman, Paul Krauss and John R. Pearson. These gentlemen partook of entertainment at the home of Fred Rush Friday night, and it was nearly midnight when the evening's events were brought to a close. The party proceeded on Pennsylvania street toward Home avenue on the way to their respective homes Just above the avenue one of the gentlemen located a blaze in the rear of the residence of Pierre Gray, and a hurried investigation resulted in the discovery of a smart fire raging in Mr. Gray's barn. The owner was quickly aroused and apprised of the fact that his barn was on fire. The nearest fire box was a block away, and a line of small garden hose lay conveniently near. With much presence of mind the discoverers of the fire reasoned that by the time the box could be reached and the department summoned Mr. Gray's barn would be in ruins. Some one suggested the garden hose, and the line was quickly manned. Happily the hose was of sufficient length and Mr. Gray's barn was saved at the sacrifice of his new lettuce bed and several rows of string beans.

GOVERNOR ON THE REGENCY.

He Thinks It Doubtful that Gen. Lew Wallace Will Accept.

It is understood that General Kneffer and Major Menzies will accept the office of regent of the monument. Governor Matthews said last night that he had assurances from Major Menzies to that effect before his appointment was determined on and that General Kneffer had called on hir Friday, but he was absent in Fort Wayne attending the Loyal Legion banquet. met General Wallace on the train," said the Governor, "and from what he said I was led to think that he would not accept. He did not say positively, however, that he would not and I think he will be in town to-morrow to look over the situation. He said he would want to read the law and Inspect the records of the office before he would give us his answer. I think it doubtful that he will accept.

THIRTY-ONE BLUECOATS DETAILED FOR BALL PARK "CONCERT."

Mayor's Message to the Council on the Bicycle Question-A New Local Sewer.

The Board of Safety met yesterday afternoon and directed that acting Superintendent of Police Campbell detail thirty-one officers and policemen for service to-day at the "sacred concert" advertised to occur at the new ball park, near the State fair grounds. It is believed by the city officials that the admission charged for the concert is a scheme to hide a charge for a game of basebail, and that the game, if allowed to be played in such a place, will simply be an opening wedge for the professional games now scheduled elsewhere. If the expectation is realized the players will be arrested at the first toss of the ball, and will be compelled to ride to the station house. The order adopted by the board reads the same as that adopted at the meeting April 13, when the first professional game was announced to be played.

TENTH-STREET ASPHALT. It Will Be Laid from Talbott Avenue

to Central. A petition was yesterday presented to the Board of Works for the construction of a sewer in California street from Washington to Market street. It was granted. A petition for renumbering houses on Spruce street from English avenue to Cypress street was also granted, together with a petition for renumbering houses on Linden street from Harrison to Cypress. The board, in response to petition, ordered an asphalt, pavement for the roadway of Tenth street from Talbott avenue to Central avenue. It is to have a four-inch foundation and, a two-inch surface, the width being twenty-four feet. The petition for a cement sidewalk in this same street was deferred for the present because the petitioners want the walk next to the curb. A final estimate and assessment roll in behalf of J. E. Mann for grading and graveling the first alley east of Greenwood street from Tenth to Eleventh was ordered. H. C. Adams was accepted as surety on the bond of D. DeRuiter in the construct tion of a local sewer in the alleys east and west of Mississippi street between Seventh and Fourteenth streets. The board yesterday gave the contract for the city's blank books, printing and stationery for May to the Sentinel Printing Company at $312.66, the lowest bidder. A petition for a five-foot cement walk on the east side of Hudson street from Michigan to North street, was withheld from action until it can be settled whether it is signed by one-half the property owners. board yesterday approved vouchers as fellows: Pay roll foreman street repairs, $1, 066.01; sewer gang, $119.10; bridge gang, CYCLING AS A NUISANCE.

Mayor Will Send a Message to Council on the Subject.

Mayor Denny will send a message to the Council to-morrow night on the subject of the use of the sidewalks for bicycle tracks. Complaints come to him daily of persons knocked down and sometimes painfully injured by reckless riders. The Mayor will recommend the passage of an ordinance requiring rider's to use a lamp and bell at night. General Fred Kneffer was struck by bicycle a short time ago and did not wait the processes of the law. He administered personal castigation to the unlucky rider. Miss Laura Ream, who was knocked down by a wheel two weeks ago, is just able to be about again.

A New South-side Sewer. The Board of Public Works yesterday adopted a resolution for the construction of a local sewer as follows: Beginning at the old sewer in Madison avenue to the center of the first alley north of Coburn street, thence cast to New Jersey street, thence north in New Jersey street to a point 884 lineal feet distant, and thence south 200 feet; also, beginning at the line of the sewer the first alley north of Coburn street at the center of High street, for a distance of 200 feet, and north in High street 870 feet; also, beginning at the sewer in the first alley north of Coburn street, at Davis street, to the first alley south of Bicking street, thence cast in said alley 180 feet and west The board also adopted a resolution for grading and graveling a distance of twenty-four feet on Tenth street, and a petition for a brick sidewalk on the west side of Chadwick street, from McCarty to Ray street, was granted. Streets Littered by Market Men. Mayor Denny has asked the Board of Safety to adopt an order in reference to the disposal of refuse which collects on the streets used by market men. The Mayor suggests that the market men be required to bring a barrel, box or sack with them. and that the refuse matter be placed in it and carried away in the wagons. The memhers of the board promised the Mayor that the streets should be kept clean. Mr. White said the market is the only possession of the city with an earning capacity, and that the amount received from it should be spent, as far as necessary, in keeping the market

GOVERNOR TO BRING PROCEEDINGS.

He Himself Will Act if the Roby Injunction Is Denied.

The time set for the trial of the injunction suit against the backers of the Roby Breeders' Racing Association is May 24, and if the injunction is then denied, the Governor intends to bring proceedings in which he will be the relator in the name of the State. Attorney-general Ketcham will then have charge of the case and it is believed that the injunction can be made "The defiant arrogance of the Roby crowd," said Governor Matthews last night, "makes me very anxious that the courts should find a way to squelch them and to prevent their continued violation of the law. They have been trying to create sympathy for themselves by telling that the prosecution against them was due to the influence of the backers of the Hawthorne track which is their principal rival. There is absolutely, of course, no truth in that, I know none of the Hawthorne track horsemen and have not talked with any one connected with the track that I know of. The Roby people further say that the opposition to their track can be partly accounted for because of my preference for trotting meetings. There is nothing in that either. have no objection to the Roby horsemen having a meeting fifteen days in every lawful period, but I do object to their evading the law and running a continuous meeting that seeks to bring together the worst elements of the city for gambling purposes."

AN INVITATION TO GEN. HARRISON. Patriotic Children of New York Want

Him to Visit Them. The Rhinelander School of the Children's Aid Society, in New York city, has extended to ex-President Harrison an invitation to visit that institution on his next visit East. The children wrote as follows: "To Our Ex-President, Gen. Benjamin Har-

"Dear Sir-We, the undersigned, in behalf of ourselves and fellow-schoolmates, extend to you a most cordial invitation to visit our school to learn what we are doing in the line of patriotic instruction. If you find it convenient to honor us with your presence it will afford us no end of pleasure and encourage our desire to grow up good, honest and patriotic citizens, ready and anxious to help carry out laws pre-scribed or indorsed by you and other noble, earnest men."

This letter is signed by a number of children whose ages, as set, run from five to eleven years, with an accompanying and explanatory note from the principal of the school, Margaret P. Pescal. She expresses a wish that the ex-President may see what has been accomplished in the line of patriotic instruction with children of and ungan in 1892, under the direction of the late Col. George T. Balch, originator of the American patriotic salute."

The unique feature of the invitation is the envelope in which the letters are inclosed. It is eight inches by six in size; its front represents an American flag and is made of heavy gros-grain ribbon, the stars em-broidered in white silk. The pocket is of heavy white silk, and on the flap is the monogram of the school and its motto, "Labor omnia vincit," embroidered in red, white and blue. This envelope is the work of six little girls, and the address is cm-broidered on cardboard by a tot of six and tled to the flag with ribbon. The invitation was sent in the care of Capt. Wallace Foster, who says his enthusiasm for patriotic instruction of children was first aroused by seeing the work in this school. Captain Foster delivered the package to General Harrison last evening, but the ex-President was not prepared to state whether or not he could accept the

THE SHELBYVILLE WEAPON CASE THWARTS CHICAGO AUTHORITIES.

The Court's Remarks-Mrs. Don Carlos Morgan Claims Her Husband Loves Her Sister.

Judge Harvey, of Room 2, Superior Court, yesterday decided the David C. Bryan habeas corpus case, which has been pending since the arrest of the latter by a Chicago detective. The court finds that Bryan was being unlawfully restrained from his liberty. The decision was based on the fact that the defendant at the time of his arrest was and is now under an indictment by the Shelby county circuit for carrying concealed weapons. In closing his remarks on the question of the prisoner's detention the court made use of the following language: "Further, if extradition proceedings are to be allowed to interfere with the exclusive exercise of the jurisdiction of the State of Indiana, then it might be that a person charged with an infamous crime under bond to answer therefor in the State could by the commission of a comparatively minor offense in another State, set in operation the provisions for extradition and interrupt, if not defeat, the free and full exercise of laws for punishment in Indiana. As circumstances now are, the petitioner cannot be delivered to the State of Illinois. This was decided in whether the petitioner's present detention by the sheriff is legal. For the reasons stated, which are, I am satisfied, supported by the Constitution, such restraint under the warrant now in the hands of the sheriff is illegal." Three weeks ago Judge Harvey admitted Bryan to $5,000 bail. The court allowed the attorneys for the State of Illinois thirty days in which to file a bill of ex-

Morgan in a Divorce Suit. Don Carlos Morgan is the defendant in a suit for divorce filed yesterday by Mary A. Morgan. Mrs. Morgan alleges cruel treatment among other of her husband's shortcomings. She married Morgan July 19, 1888. Some time after the marriage she says her sister came to live with her. Her husband at once transferred his smiles to the visitor, it is claimed, and the wife was neglected. Mrs. Morgan charges that the defendant has both publicly and in the privacy of their own chamber declared that he no longer loved her, but was consumed with mad and all-absorbing passion for the sister. The plaintiff says she was terribly humiliated on one occasion when this declaration was made in the presence of their five-year-old daughter. She asks for the custody of the latter and $600 alimony.

Protest Against Confederate Dedications on Decoration Day.

At a regular meeting, last night, of John F. Ruckle Post, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, It is currently reported through the public press that it is the intention of the survivors of the Southern Confederacy to dedicate, in a conspicuous and public way, a monument in the city of Chicago, next Memorial day, in honor of the victims of the lost cause, who died in that city while prisoners during the late war; "Resolved, That there can be no objection raised to marking in a conspicuous way the last resting place of the dead; but we do most earnestly protest against a monument or any other device in honor of the late Confederacy, or an effort to perpetuate the memory or justify secession, treason, or the existence of human slavery in the United States, being erected at Chicago or any other place north of the so-called Mason and Dixon line. "Resolved, That the cardinal principles arbitrated by the force of arms (notably treason and secession) were settled during the late war and should remain settled

"Resolved, That the South was wholly wrong in their efforts to disrupt the government of the United States. "Resolved, That Decoration day is a time set apart by act of Congress sacred to the memory of the loyal victims of the late war, and to teach loyalty and patriotism; therefore, we remonstrate against this day being used for the aforesaid purpose. "Resolved, That we believe this monu-ment erected at Chicago is an effort to revive the spirit that caused the sacrifice of so many thousand valuable lives, both North and South; and further, "Resolved. In the spirit of patriotism, with kind regard for the citizens of all sections of our broad land, we earnestly protest against any class of men making conspicuous before the public a cause that is just as wrong to-day as it was in 1861." Phil Sheridan Post, G. A. R., adopted resolutions Friday night, deprecating the movement to unveil the Chicago monument in honor of the Confederate dead. The post condemns the attempt to "weave a laurel wreath about the brows of treason in thus honoring the dead by setting forth any defense of the cause for which they
